

You are cordially invited to join local legend
Larry White on a photographic adventure

This is our Photography Club's Annual Spring

Saturday Morning, April 8, 2017

Larry will guide 2 walking tours, show up on time to go on a great adventure as Larry points out more animals than you ever imagined that live in our local wetlands.

We've all seen his photographs of birds, coyotes, mink and other creatures, now he's going to share his secret locations & methods.

When: Saturday, April 8, 2017 with your choice of either 6:30 A.M. for sunrise or 8:00 A.M. for morning light.

Where: Meet up in the parking area at Angler's Cove.

Equipment: Bring what you have for low lighting, wildlife, flowers, landscapes and people. Larry loves to use his 100-400 telephoto lens. A lens hood is helpful to avoid the early morning sun "flares" on your lens.

Sex: Most of the wildlife is either having, or trying to have, sex. Larry advises using your discretion filter.

Walking: This is a walking safari, no double deck buses will be provided.

Parking: Park in the small lot at Angler's Cove, if full, park in an adjacent neighborhood and walk in. No parking on Ingram in the NEV lanes as those old people driving NEVs and golf carts can really get cranky!

Sign up: Advance sign up needed to ensure Larry that you are going to show up and what time you want to start, select either 6:30 A.M. or 8:00 A.M.

He is limiting each of these guided tours to a handful of people to avoid stressing out the wildlife. He can also notify you of changes/updates if you are signed up. Wait there's more! Peoples signing up get invited to the Show & Tell Party.
